NOTES: Unearned/Other Income is the total of all income which cannot be included in the next three categories.
Occupational Pension is the pension you receive from an employer. The Old Age Pension paid by Social Security should be included in the Unearned/Other Income estimate.
Unearned/Other Income and Occupational Pension must be estimates of the income you expect to receive under these headings for the complete year.
Employed/Self-employed Earnings figures must be estimates of the income you expect to receive for the year excluding any earnings received before pension age or the date you ceased work. (In the latter case the figures should be nil).

Instead of charging the maximum rate, Contributions will use estimates of income for the first three years following a change of circumstances which leads to a non-employed classification. When Income Tax have provided the actual income figures, these will replace the estimates and an account or refund issued for the difference between the contributions due on the actual income and the contributions paid on the estimates.
