

Development within the curtilage of a dwelling-house

11. Erection of garden structure

The erection of a structure designed and used for the support of plants within the curtilage of a dwelling-house provided that-

- (a) no part of the structure extends forward of any elevation of the dwelling-house that faces a highway,*
- (b) the height of the structure does not exceed 3 metres,*
- (c) where any part of the structure is within 1 metre of the boundary of a neighbouring property the height of that part does not exceed 2 metres,*
- (d) no part of the structure is located more than 30 metres from the dwelling-house,*
- (e) neither the dwelling-house nor the structure to be erected is within a site of special significance.*

This exemption does not apply to a Protected Monument or Protected Building

THIS WORK MAY BE EXEMPT FROM THE BUILDING REGULATIONS

In order to determine whether your proposal is exempt from the requirement to apply for planning permission you must ensure that it meets all the criteria above and:

All exemptions are subject to a number of important general provisos, which are summarised as follows:

- The Development must be within your domestic curtilage. This is usually, but not always, your garden area.
- There is a limit on the total area of exempt development which can be permitted within the curtilage of a dwelling-house. No more than 50% of the curtilage, excluding the ground floor of the dwelling as originally constructed, may be covered.
- Exemptions do not apply to protected monuments and buildings unless the contrary is specifically stated in the exemption.
- All of the conditions of the exemption must be satisfied for the exemption to apply.
- These exemptions do not apply to the building regulations.

In addition, there may be conditions of previous permissions that affect exemptions, for example, where planning permission for a group of houses was granted subject to a condition removing exemption rights for walls, sheds etc. If you suspect your property may be affected by such a condition, you should check your own property records and/or request us to check our records.
